5. Earthbound

Screenplay: ANTHONY TERPILOFF
Director: CHARLES CRICHTON

En route to Earth, an alien spacecraft crash lands on the Moon. On board are six crew members in suspended animation. Upon awakening, their leader, Captain Zandor, tells Koenig that they are heading for Earth because their planet has been destroyed. Since one of the aliens was killed when his sleep casket was forced open, one Alphan will be allowed to return to Earth. Commissioner Simmonds, trapped on the Moon when it was blasted out of orbit, will stop at nothing to be the sixth member. Stealing Koenig's commlock, he enters the life support room and removes its power core. Alpha is then left with the choice of letting him go or facing death from lack of power and environment.

6. Another Time, Another Place

Screenplay: JOHNNY BYRNE
Director: DAVID TOMBLIN

Alpha passes through a rift in the fabric of the universe and is hurled across time and space. The only person to be physically affected is Main Mission staff member Regina Kesslann. She begins to develop symptoms of sunburn and whimpers something about seeing "two moons" in the sky. Miraculously, it is discovered that the Moon is returning to Earth orbit! As it locks into orbit, Regina dies in the arms of the man she claims to be her husband: Alan Carter! Suddenly, a second Moon is spotted with another Moonbase. The two bodies are on a collision course, so Koenig, Helena and Carter probe the surface of the Earth, devastated from a radical shift in its axis, in an attempt to find a suitable site for relocating the Alphans. On the planet, however, they discover themselves, five years in the future.

Regina Kesslann: JUDY GEESON
