9. Force of Life

Screenplay: JOHNNY BYRNE
Director: DAVID TOMBLIN

The body of technician Anton Zoref is invaded by a life force that consumes raw energy. Zoref begins to absorb energy, first from equipment, then from people as well. He leaves a trail of burnt out machines and frozen, lifeless bodies around Alpha. The only chance of survival is to cut all power on Alpha, forcing Zoref to head for the source: the power station. He is confronted there by Koenig, Carter and Bergman. Deprived of energy, severely weakened, he lunges at Koenig, but Carter fires a Kill Laser at Zoref. His body is charred to the bone, but the laser has given him renewed energy. Zoref enters the power station and begins to open the reactor. The pile begins to reach critical mass and the Alphans await a nuclear explosion.

10. Alpha Child

Screenplay: CHRISTOPHER PENFOLD
Director: RAY AUSTIN

Jackie Crawford is the first child born in space, but Alpha's joy turns to shock when the child ages five years in a matter of minutes! Though most of the Alphans soon grow to love the deaf-mute child, he terrifies his mother and disturbs Koenig. Suddenly, as four spacecraft appear over Moonbase, Jackie dies and, as he lies on Medical Center, is transformed into a full-grown man named Jarak. The alien's first action is to transform Alphan Cynthia Crawford into Jarak's mate, Rena. The aliens and their 118 companions in the spaceships above are running from the ruthlessly imposed genetic conformity of their world. They plan to hide within the bodies of 120 Alphans, but to do so, the Alphans must die. However, those pursuing Jarak have caught up with the fugitives sooner than expected and a war of the aliens begins. The fate of Alpha hangs in the balance.
